Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

- 1) ☒ Responsive to communication(s) filed on 10 May 2006.
- 2a) ☒ This action is FINAL. 2b) ☐ This action is non-final.
- 3) ☐ Since this application is in condition for allowance except for formal matters, prosecution as to the merits is closed in accordance with the practice under Ex parte Quayle, 1935 C.D. 11, 453 O.G. 213.

Disposition of Claims

- 4) ☒ Claim(s) 1-4 is/are pending in the application.
- 4a) Of the above claim(s) _____ is/are withdrawn from consideration.

DETAILED ACTION

This Office Action is responsive to the applicants' amendment filed on May 10, 2006.

Applicants' cooperation in correcting the informalities in the drawing is appreciated.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

1. Claim 4 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by any one of Nishikawa et al. (Nishikawa) (Publication Number JP 2000-205164).

Regarding claim 4, Nishikawa (as shown in Fig.1) discloses a rotary compressor having a driving element and first and second rotary compressing elements driven by the driving element in a hermetically sealed vessel to discharge a gas, which has been compressed by the first rotary compressing element, into the hermetically sealed vessel, and compress the discharged gas of an intermediate pressure by the second rotary compressing element, the rotary compressor comprising: a first/second cylinder (23, 33) for constituting a first/second rotary compressing element (20, 30); an intermediate partitioner (not numbered; however, clearly seen in Fig. 1 in Nishikawa) provided between the cylinders to partition the rotary compressing elements; supporting members (not numbered; however, clearly seen in Fig. 1) that close open surfaces of the cylinders and have bearings for the rotary shaft (15) of the driving element; and an oil bore (not numbered; however, clearly seen in Fig. 1) formed in the rotary shaft, wherein a lubrication bore (not numbered; however, clearly seen in Fig.1) for communication between the oil bore and a low-pressure chamber in the second cylinder (33) is formed in the intermediate partitioner.

Art Unit: 3748

Allowable Subject Matter

2. Claims 1-3 are allowed.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed on May 10, 2006 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

In response to applicant's argument that the references fail to show certain features of applicant's invention, it is noted that the features upon which applicant relies (i.e., a lubrication bore is only on the intermediate partitioner, the partitioner closes the lower opening of the second cylinder (see argument on page 4, line 12-20)) are not recited in the rejected claim(s). Although the claims are interpreted in light of the specification, limitations from the specification are not read into the claims. See In re Van Geuns, 988 F.2d 1181, 26 USPQ2d 1057 (Fed. Cir. 1993).

Applicant's arguments fail to comply with 37 CFR 1.111(b) because they amount to a general allegation that the claims define a patentable invention without specifically pointing out how the language of the claims patentably distinguishes them from the references.

Applicant's arguments do not comply with 37 CFR 1.111(c) because they do not clearly point out the patentable novelty which he or she thinks the claims present in view of the state of the art disclosed by the references cited or the objections made. Further, they do not show how the amendments avoid such references or objections.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
